

Making Inferences

Aaron woke up very early on Saturday morning and looked out of his window. He saw his friend waiting at the front door. It was a beautiful hot and sunny day. His friend called out to him. His friend said, "It is the perfect day, don't forget to get your fishing rod." Aaron grabbed his fishing rod, and they left the house with a parent.

Where do you think Aaron, his friend, and the parent are going?

List the clues in the text that helped you make the inferences

Making Inferences

Aaron woke up very early on Saturday morning and looked out of his window. He saw his friend waiting at the front door. It was a beautiful hot and sunny day. His friend called out to him. His friend said, "It is the perfect day, don't forget to get your fishing rod." Aaron grabbed his fishing rod, and they left the house with a parent.