

Reflection Activity

A retell of the same story told by different people may be quite different. Reflect on why one person's interpretation of the story may be different from someone else's.