

What Type of Graph Should I Use?

For each scenario below, record the type of graph that you feel is the most appropriate to use out of these options: broken line graph, pictograph, bar graph, and multiple bar graph.

Scenario	Type of graph to use
1) You ask three different groups of people about their favourite athlete.
2) You track the number of points that one team scored each period for a hockey game.
3) You research how many children were born in a city during each month of one year.
4) You survey fish owners about how much fish food they use.
