

Monitoring Movement

In Rouge National Park, the turtles are helping the scientists by wearing the transmitters for at least a year.

Carrying a radio transmitter around is one way for a turtle to help humans learn more.

What do you think?

Is that hard work for the turtle?
Do all birds move around the same way?
Do all turtles move around the park in the same way?	